

Annual Report Of Municipality

The annual financial statement to the tax payers of Arlington Heights appears in this issue. It is a resume of the essential figures appearing in the annual report of the auditor, E. F. Laurin. It is concise and easily interpreted. The average citizen who reads it can obtain an accurate picture of financial operation of the village.

While the total figures of receipts and expenses appear in the report as approximately $95,000, a large part of that is non-income receipts, such as tax warrants sold, etc. The actual cost of keeping the municipality in operation for the year was approximately $50,000. General taxes pay half of that cost and the water department two-fifths. The larger items of receipts are $4600 for liquor licenses, $2,500 for business licenses, $4,000 for vehicle tags and $2,800 for fines. A receipt of $1,600 from the Public Service Co., representing franchise commission is not to be sneezed at.

Over $8,000 was spent in street improvements that did not cost the tax payers a penny. The money came from the village share of the state motor fuel tax. Incidentally the village has a balance of $10,000 in that fund. This amount represents an entire year credit given the village from fuel taxes paid by firms selling gas and oil. The new traffic lights to be installed will come from this fund.

The annual statement appears on page 2, section 2, of this issue.

Ceremony to induct 17 as police officers

There will be an induction ceremony next Monday evening at the Arlington Heights village hall when the seventeen men holding appointments as special police officers will receive their stars and their instructions. They have been asked to be at the village board room by nine o'clock to be sworn in.

Mayor Goedke is asking great cooperation between the special and the regular police. He says, "some of the special police are carrying a star on account of their own public position; others are consenting to accept their appointments as a service to the locality which they represent; all of them will be asked to report to the regular officers violations of village laws that come to their attention."

At the meeting of the village board Monday evening the Annual Tavern License was boosted from $350 to $425 per year.

At a meeting a few weeks ago the numbers of taverns was reduced from six to five.

Other licenses are under study by the board and some other changes may be in prospect in the future in other forms of licenses.

Arlington Park ready for gala opening Monday

by T. C. HART

Cleaned, polished and groomed to the last minute detail the big Arlington Park racing plant is ready for the gala opening Monday of what promises to be the greatest race meeting in the history of the track.

The management of Arlington Park has spared neither time or expense in preparing for this year's meeting. With nearly $500,000 in purses and stakes hung up for the horsemen to shoot at, the meeting will be one of the richest in the country.

The entire plant has been improved to make it more comfortable in every way. There are new barns for the horses, new quarters with shower baths and other home-like facilities for the help and other conveniences for the patrons.

The policy of the present Arlington Park management seems to be to make everyone comfortable and to see that he has a good time.

To that end the beautiful plant with its hundreds of acres of rolling meadows and picturesque orchards as a setting for the finest racing plant in the central west, has been cleaned, trimmed and groomed until it is one of the most beautiful and picturesque spots in all Chicago.

The big grandstand and club house have been improved in many ways with the comfort of the patrons as the object at all times.

There are new and conveniently located betting windows, easily accessible refreshment stands and more seating facilities.

The paddock park with its fine lawns and shade trees is a cool and comfortable spot where thousands can stroll in the shade and watch the saddling of the horses before each race.

And with the big racing plant in apple pie order and waiting for the bugle to call them to the post in the first race, all that is needed is the horses and the riders and these are arriving daily this week in ever increasing numbers.

The best horses and the best riders in the country will be seen in action at Arlington during the 34 day meeting.

There are accommodations on the grounds for over 1,300 horses and all are expected to be filled by Monday morning.

Whirlaway, Warren Wright's sensational three year old, winner of the Kentucky derby, the Preakness and the Belmont, will be on hand to make his bid for still greater fame and riches in the Arlington Classic.

All the other top flight horses in the country will be at Arlington at one time or another during the meeting to compete in the various rich stake events.

Everything is ready at Arlington Park for what promises to be the greatest meeting in the history of the track.

All that is needed now are the crowds and with all the pains that have been taken by the management to make the public comfortable and give them a good time the crowds are assured in numbers that will smash all attendance records of former years.

Say, kids, got your idea for the bike parade yet?

All right, kids, get your bicycle ready. You don't want to be left out of the bicycle parade on the Fourth of July. You and Dad put your heads together and see if you can rig up one of the best decorated bikes in town. Because there are going to be cash prizes and you can use some of that money, maybe to go swimming in the pool this summer.

The parade starts off the biggest all community event of the year in Arlington Heights. Lots of people are going to see you riding down the street behind the drum and bugle corps. The Lions club and all the business men are putting on an expensive fireworks display in the evening and there is plenty going on all day at Recreation park. You won't want to miss seeing the Redwings trim Johnson Motors of Waukegan in the afternoon. Ed. Cherwin, Redwing manager, you know him, says the Redwings are all set to beat 'em like the White Sox beat the Yankees Tuesday. You won't go hungry or thirsty, either, with all the soda pop and hot dogs on hand. You can tell dad that if he doesn't like soda pop so well, he can drink something that comes in a barrel. Tell your kid sister that for a dime you'll mention to the boy friend where he can dance to Wally Hahnfeldt's orchestra all evening for only 35 cents.

So long, kids, better start getting the idea for the bike right away. The winner is going to have his picture in the paper, too.

By the way, you haven't seen someone else with the number 38 Fourth of July button, have you? I'll split the prize with you if you get his autograph and telephone number.

Cement, bricks and dirt fly at site of new theatre building

Plaster, cement, bricks and dirt are flying around the Arlington theatre site. A well driller is down seventy feet and has a hundred more feet to go. A power excavator has removed the north wall and the old roof. Ground excavating for purpose of increasing the floor incline is now in progress.

All that remains of the old building is the west wall and part of the front entrance. The wall will be built up five feet. The new building will be double the size of the original structure.

If construction is handled as speedily as the wrecking operations the new theatre will be completed by Labor Day.

Lutheran school men become summer students

Theo. Preuss and A. W. Bathie, instructors at the Arlington Heights Lutheran school, are having a vacation from local school duties, but will spend the next few weeks at pupils desks at the River Forest Concordia Teachers College, where they are taking up extension courses for B. A. degrees. Mr. Bathie expects to complete his degree work this summer and receive his diploma.

No more toothaches for Arlington school child

Fifty-four per cent improvement noted
in last two years

A toothache is fast becoming a thing that only daddy and mother can remember. Not much longer can any of the Arlington Heights school children complain "my tooth hurts."

Latest facts and figures on a dental survey show an improvement in dental health of 54 per cent of the school children in the last two years. The dental health program and dental clinic is almost solely responsible.

During the second week of school last September a dental survey was made in the North, South, St. James, and St. Peters schools by Drs. Baumann, Bostian, Dunn, and Hill.

A hike survey which had been made in September of the previous year is compared with the investigation made at the beginning of this school year in a table below:

Dental Health Program and Dental Clinic in Arlington Heights
September, 1940, to June, 1941

Dental Survey: During the second week of school in September, 1940, a dental survey was made in the North, South, St. James, and St. Peters schools by Drs. Baumann, Dr. Bostian, Dr. Dunn, and Dr. Hill. The following table compares the results of the 1940 survey with the findings of the survey made in September, 1939:

Table No. 1	Sept. 1939	Sept. 1940	% ex.	% ex.
Total enrollment	938	1019
No. children examined	799	938
No. numerous cavities	289	368	37%	39%
No. few cavities	341	252	43%	27%
No. with abscesses	137	46	17%	5%
No. inflamed gums	82	17	10%	2%
No. needed cleaning	663	644	83%	68%
Total No. defects	718	645	89%	68%

The dental survey of September, 1940, shows an improvement of 21% in the dental health of the school children of Arlington Heights. While in September, 1939, 89% of the children had dental defects, 68% were found with dental defects in September, 1940.

Similar analysis of June, 1940, with June, 1941, reveals a like improvement of 23 per cent. Some 663 children, 65 per cent of the total enrollment, passed the dental tests this spring, while only 397, 42 per cent, were considered "O. K." a year ago. From September, 1939, to June, 1941, a change in the number of children with defects decreased from 89 per cent to 35 per cent, or an improvement of 54 per cent.

This decrease of 54 per cent is an outstanding achievement that speaks very favorably for the community, and everyone concerned with the program. Numerous tables have been compiled at the Arlington Heights Public Health department which accurately show just how many children need dental corrections. Carrying out this program of dental health and education has accounted for the remarkable change in the health of the children.

Assuming that the dental health of the children will deteriorate by ten per cent during the summer as it did in the summer of 1940, there will be approximately 45 per cent with dental defects next September. If the program is carried on next year, it is likely that a further improvement of at least 20 per cent will be obtained. The percentage would then be pegged at 25 per cent next June. Further education and correction will reduce the number to a minimum where the dental program will "hold that line."

Following the survey last September a letter was sent home by each child. This letter stressed the importance of good dental health for every school child, and asked the parents to indicate whether they were planning to send their children to the family dentist, or whether they desired care at the dental clinic.

Some 131 children applied for care. The eligibility of the children for dental work was based on a report following home calls made by the nurse, and passed upon by the dentists. Children of families of low incomes, on WPA, or relief,

Help keep our streets clean

"I am asking the co-operation of the business men in Arlington Heights, to help me keep the streets clean in the business district by refraining from sweeping the debris from the stores out into the streets."

"We have placed waste paper cans at certain intersections and paint them every year to keep them neat in appearance."

"The street department is out every Saturday at 4 a. m. cleaning the streets in the business district and in the winter when our snow plowing is done, we are pleased to be able to haul the snow away from in front of your place of business so that your customers may come and go without any difficulty."

"If there are any suggestions on how to keep our business district in first class shape, I am sure your village board will take same under advisement."

"Your good business makes us happy."

"William W. Luehring, Supt."

Special school building election June 28th

A special election to vote on the required bond issue for addition to the south school at Arlington Heights has been called for Saturday, June 28, at the south school.

were admitted to the clinic if they so desired. Forty-five children were excluded from the clinic for being able to provide for their own dental work. Out of the 86 remaining, 75 received complete dental corrections, while the other eleven were classified as incomplete because they had not fulfilled all of their appointments with the dentists.

Dental clinics held during the past four months numbered 62. Each of the four dentists participating worked in his own office, holding a two hour clinic once a week from 8-10 a. m.

The total number of corrections at the dental clinics was 408 which were classified as follows:

Number of children having complete corrections	75
Total number of visits by these children	398
Number of extractions on 31 children (average 2.3)	71

Break ground for new Palatine Catholic church

Ground was broken this week for the erection of a fine new church building in Palatine, being erected by the St. Theresa Catholic church parish. The building will have an exterior of autumn tint brick with stone trim, 32 by 74 feet.

The old Filbert lot at Bothwell and Wood sts. is the location of the new church building and the location furnishes a fine setting for a building which will be a credit to the community.

The start on the new church saw the dreams of 75 families in the community about to be realized.

The church for the past several years has held services in the old village hall which is a dangerous fire trap at best and now that the people of St. Theresa parish see a new fire proof home actually in the process of erection the hopes and dreams of years are about to come true.

It has been only through hard and diligent work and loyal cooperation that the building of the new church has been made possible, but that work and planning has at last been rewarded and a fine new $18,000.00 structure is now going up.

The building is being constructed by John P. Noonan and Associates. Wm. Weide of Palatine is a member of the Noonan organization. Anthony Koske, of Arlington Heights, is doing the excavating. Mr. M. S. Carstens is the architect in charge of the work.

America First secures return of Maselter

In response to popular demand following his first appearance, John H. Maselter, recognized authority on propaganda, will speak again at Arlington Heights in a meeting sponsored by the Arlington Heights chapter of the America First committee. The meeting will be held at 8:00 o'clock next Tuesday night in the new recreation park.

A capacity audience gathered last Friday night, to hear Mr. Maselter discuss "Is the United States Being High-Pressured Into War It Doesn't Want?" Barrington, Lake Zurich, Palatine, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights were well-represented in the audience.

Mr. Maselter's subject next Tuesday night will be "This Is Not Our War." There will be a question period following his talk.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

Lions elect Ewert president; Walter Karstens retires

One of the most active terms of the Arlington Heights Lions club will come to an end this month when Walter Karstens, president, and Nicholas Lattof, secretary-treasurer, will close their terms of office. Carl Ewert was elected president at the regular meeting of the Lions club Tuesday evening.

Ewert has a background of several years experience in the Lions club here and has all the qualifications for leading the club in another year of active programs and community service. Installation of officers will be held July 8, postponed from July 1 because of the work involved in preparing the Fourth of July celebration which is being held in conjunction with the Trade and Civic organization.

Other officers elected are as follows:

Virgil Horath, 1st vice pres.; Otto Wulbecker, 2nd vice pres.; Wm. Lussman, 3rd vice pres.; Walter Kroeber, 4th vice pres.; S. R. Paddock, Jr., sec.-treas.; Harry Levine, lion tamer. Directors for the two year terms are Al Jasper and Nicholas Lattof, and Ernest Malzahn, one year term.

War on rats at $4.50 an hour

Just in case you get lonesome now and then, you'll be comforted to know that, according to the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Federal Government, there is almost one rat to each person in the United States—123,000,000 rats, 131,000,000 persons.

The village dump is the biggest problem before the village board in the opinion of some Arlington Heights residents. It is a big dump and covers a lot of ground. Anthony Koske has agreed to see what he can do with his excavating equipment in reducing the "above ground" portion of the pile of tin cans—which according to the federal government probably is the home for 5,000 rats. Mr. Koske will charge $4.50 an hour. The village board will allow him to see what he can do.

Rodents who now make their home there are herewith notified that it is moving day at the dump.

Swimming Pool Opens Saturday

Aldermen break all records for hour sessions

Arlington Heights aldermen are earning their salaries, so think their wives. They had become accustomed to unlocking the front door for their returning husbands around midnight, but Monday night it was nearly two o'clock Tuesday morning when the husbands came home. In order to set at rest any suspicion on the parts of the wives that after board meeting parties are to blame for the late hours, Alderman Griffith suggested that night desk sergeant issue a dated "passport" when sessions last longer than midnight.

There was not a terrible lot of business, but the board was in executive session over two hours Monday night after completing their routine business.

Why Not Name the Parks?
M. W. Grigsby of Scarsdale again appeared before the board, reporting progress on the correcting of house numbers in that subdivision and suggested that a short street, now incorrectly named Burton Place, be renamed South Haddow of which it is a continuation. At present there are no houses facing the short street that will be renamed.

Alderman Studman gave the suggestion that while Mr. Grigsby is straightening out the house numbers in Scarsdale, might be an opportune time to give those six small parts a title, naming one after the mayor and the others after each alderman. The names of the two aldermen with the shortest names could be hyphenated for park number six.

Police department reported 41 arrests, netting $187; sale of 95 vehicle tags for $366.50; business licenses totaling $110 and the sale of $20 worth of dog tags.

A street light will be installed at the intersection of Casper and the highway, a scene of a recent accident. A power sickle mower, similar to those used by the state highway department, was ordered purchased for $185. Authority was given for the purchase of an Earthworm boring machine which will take the place of the present pipe pusher which is not effective through gravel ground.

The North Western will furnish three watchmen at the Euclid, Vail and Evergreen street crossings for the racing season from 9:00 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.

A maintenance contract at $25 a month for keeping police radios in proper condition was authorized. Mayor Goedke reported the issuance of eleven tavern licenses at a fee of $350 each and two beer licenses at $100 each.

Arlington blackboards down in Robin Moor

A half carload of school supplies, mostly blackboards from E. W. A. Rowles Co., Arlington Heights are available to the mermaids of the South Atlantic. They went down in the Robin Moor, sunk last month by a Nazi submarine a few days after it had left Brazil. A duplicate shipment will leave New York June 26, on the Peter Kerr for the same destination.

Mr. Clavey, of the Rowles Co., knew that the shipment was on the sunken boat and on receipt of cablegram from their customer at Capetown forwarded a replacement shipment.

To organize USO committee in Arlington

If Arlington Heights is going to meet its obligation to the boys who have answered their country's call, an efficient USO committee is necessary. Mr. Prospect, Palatine and other neighboring towns organized such committees two weeks ago and have made good progress. Mayor Goedke has received a strong request for immediate action.

Alderman Griffith has consented to take the chairmanship and has called a public meeting at the municipal building this Thursday evening, eight o'clock. Officers of all local organizations and especially mothers of those in camp are urged to attend.

To eat dinner with Gov. Green next Sunday

Volz, Wheeling; Wm. Busse, Mt. Prospect; Louis Redeker, Schaumburg; Harold Mayer; Bartlett; Dr. Gieske; Barrington; Ed. Griss; Northfield; Fred Fulle, Des Plaines;

Opening of swimming pool may be delayed a few days due to failure of Standard Oil Co. to make deliveries of material used for corking the pool. The employees are doing their utmost to have the pool open Saturday.

Saturday, June 21, at 1 p. m., Arlington Heights swimming pool opens for the season and swim enthusiasts of all ages are hoping for warm days from now on. The pool will be open daily from 1:00 to 10:00 p. m.

Members of the recreation commission, an advisory group to the Park Board, have been selling swim tickets for several weeks and are making an effort to contact all residents of the village to seek their co-operation in making the pool self-supporting.

Season swim tickets have been classified as follows: family tickets $5.00 which entitle every member of a family to swim as often as desired, single adult tickets $3.50, teen age 13 to 18 $2.50, child's ticket $1.50.

If you have not already bought your swim ticket please contact any member of the recreation commission immediately. Their names and telephone numbers are listed below:

Charles Emmett 243-R, H. A. Ashton 566, Marion Hogate 219-J, Robert Beatty 524, Herman Baumann 284, Mrs. Jos. Wisersky 604 and Mrs. Ross Richards 1320. Tickets may also be obtained by calling Otto Bolte at the field house, telephone 620.

Mr. Bolte is attempting to obtain an educational film on swimming which will be shown to the public some evening in the near future. Further details will be published at a later date.

Free Swimming Lessons
Children of the community will be offered instruction in swimming Tuesday and Thursday mornings at 10:30 a. m. The commission is also desirous of forming a class for women if there is enough demand for instruction on the part of adult groups. If you would like to learn to swim or if you can swim a little and would welcome the chance to improve your technique, here is a real opportunity. All who are interested in adult swimming instruction are urged to call the Field House 620.

The Park District has made plans for very ample supervision of the pool. Among the swimming instructors already engaged for the season are Miss Mildred Ruppel, a Northwestern University student, a senior life saver, an experienced instructor and has also engaged in competitive swimming. She is in charge of the women's dept. and Mr. Oren Breda, senior Y.M.C.A. life saving graduate, in charge of the men's dept.

A water carnival is being planned for the latter part of July, at which time it is hoped to have some events starring local participants as well as professional exhibitions of diving and swimming. The Park District and Recreation Commission are working on plans for a supervised summer recreation program for children of the community. If successful every morning will be devoted to play or handicraft groups divided according to age. Watch this paper for complete program as to time and activities.

It's up to you !!

Arlington Heights people will decide the fate of its $40,000 swimming pool this summer. Their patronage will be the deciding factor as to whether this fine swimming pool, built three years ago, is to continue to be a successful addition to the recreation facilities of the village or whether it will become a yoke about the neck of the park board, miring them too deep to warrant its opening another season.
The swimming pool in its two previous seasons has run at a loss to the park system, and this is entirely due to the lack of proper patronage on the part of the local community. The park board has done all in its power to provide a sanitary grade A pool as far as supervision, sanitation and life guards can make it. They have met all other requirements that are made by the state, to secure its high rating. The swimming rates have been extremely fair, and have been cheaper than many pools, that have had far poorer supervision.
In spite of these efforts the pool has operated at a loss. Unless the good people of Arlington Heights waken to the realization of the financial obstacles that face pool operation, either the pool will have to be operated for a shorter period next year or close for all time.
The park board called in an advisory committee. That committee, composed of civic minded citizens worked out a scale of prices that should insure the pool the patronage that it needs.
The pool is scheduled to open Saturday. There are still a lot more tickets that need selling. What are you, MR. CITIZEN, going to do about it?

Latest bowling news

The local bowlers who bowled in St. Paul in the ABC are not the only ones that can return home with flying colors. Below are scores of three ladies teams that bowled in ladies tournaments. The last bowled in Naperville on May 4, and finished in second place only by a difference of 10 pins from the first place and a cash return of $40. The two other teams bowled in the Lutheran Waltham League tournament at Berwyn on May 2 and May 6 and the first team with a score of 2789, came home with first place and $25 cash award, while the other team finished in fifth place and cash return of $10.
The writer of this article says: hats off to all the bowlers of the above teams and proud that our village has bowlers that wherever they may go, can return home with a good account of their accomplishments.

Arlington golf news

Thursday, June 12, the Poole Fords won 7 out of 8 possible points and moved from fifth place into first place. Oddly enough, Knaack Buicks, who were in first place last week, were the opponents of the Fords team, and by winning only one point, dropped from first place to fifth place.
Last week, Bob Schuler set an example by shooting one under par for the nine holes. This week Ernie Simmons took honors for the evening with his 35, even par. Bob Schuler was second low with 37 followed by 38 for James Cook, 39 for Jimmy Kellogg and 40 for Harry Schuler. (Yes, Bob and Harry are brothers).
Team standings now are:
1. Pool Fords ..... 25 1/2
2. Neuman Barbers ..... 24
3. Winkelman's Tires ..... 21 1/2
4. Paddock Publications ..... 21 1/2
5. Knaack Buicks ..... 19

Softball News

Bensenville's Iroquois Athletic club leads the Arlington Softball League as of this writing.
After losing to Leo's Barbers in their opener they have taken three opponents into camp—or should we say into the Iroquois tepee.
The Benjamin Electric faded in the final frame and walked in two runs for a 5-4 Iroquois victory. Lights out for Benjamin.
Heidorn's were out-steadied by Bensenville in a 7-5 win despite Carl Huber's three singles and Ray Meyer's triple and double.
Hopper's did everything wrong. For a total of nine errors in their loss to the leaders.
Charlie O'Hagan's C. Y. O. youngsters are in second spot with two wins and a loss.
They out-hustled Creamery Package—now cellar tenants—as they won 8-7 and got by Heidorn's 4-3 in five innings.
Gaare's Studebakers slugged C. Y. O. into submission 12-8, but made six errors meanwhile.
C. Y. O. has been rained out of games with Bensenville and Hoppers and has games on schedule with Leo and Benjamin.
O'Hagan will have to do some heavy worrying to get 'em through that, but it might be done.
Heidorn's Sweet Shop team is the only one to have played all five games to date.
After losing to C. Y. O. they have beaten Gaare's and Benjamin and lost to Bensenville.
Steady pitching and a fine outfield have been the reasons for Freddie Brehm's many grins.
Some poor coaching of base-runners put them behind the eight-ball in the game with Iroquois, which they lost 7-5.
Having to play "Hoppers" and Creamery Package they stand a good chance to finish their first round with five wins and two losses.
Benjamin Electric, Gaare's, Hopper's, and Leo's are tied for fourth place with two wins and two losses each.
Jordan's windmill pitching helped Benjamin beat Gaare's after these teams had tied in their first meeting.
The score was 7-4 with Gaare's getting more hits, 9-8, and more errors, 5-1.
This was the first league loss for Gaare's since 1939.
Heidorn's promptly added another by a 2-1 score on a soft field last Friday.
The game was a pitching duel, with Heidorn's twice leading the bases and failing to score, and with Gaare's failing three times to get a tying run home from third base.
Urik got the last nine hitters who faced him, only one of whom drove the ball to the outfield.
Leo's ran all over Iroquois in their early season encounter.
They also beat Creamery Package, but lost to Hopper's and Heidorn's.
A rained-out game with Benjamin plus encounters with Gaare's and C. Y. O. stand in their way to a possible first place tie.
Among the pitchers Eickelman of Bensenville is tops so far with three wins and no defeats.
Steve Urik of Heidorn's has won three and lost two while Tony Bodor of C. Y. O. has won two and lost one.
Carl Huber, who wears a Gaare

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust; his truth shall be thy shield and buckler" (Psalms 91: 1, 2, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Mind that made man maintains His own image and likeness. All that really exists is the divine Mind and its idea, and in this Mind the entire being is found harmonious and eternal" (p. 151).

Vital Drug May be Blessing or Bane

By C. W. Lussman of Sieburg Pharmacy

Medical science has produced no greater marvel than sulfanilamide and its derivative, sulfapyridine. Yet these high powered remedies are equally dangerous unless properly prescribed and administered.

Perhaps too much has been said in public prints in praise of these drugs for conscientious druggists are besieged by readers to sell them one or the other. Unless prescribed by a doctor who has the fullest knowledge of the patient, including what medication has been taken previous to this treatment, either of these potent drugs may be as fatal as they otherwise might have proved beneficial.

Never take these or any other drugs without the advice of a physician. Never trust any prescription to other than a qualified druggist.

Arlington troop 7 to attend scout camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta

Sunday, June 29, Camp Oh-Da-Ko-Ta, the summer training camp for the scouts of the Northwest Suburban Council will open for six weeks of happy scouting experience for a large number of scouts.

One of the features of the first week in camp will be the Fourth of July celebration with special games, a parade and special water activities. This program is looked forward to each year by the campers.

A Troop having ten or more scouts attending camp at the same time receive a 50c reduction in the weekly rate of the camp for each Scout and so far three troops have taken advantage of this plan. These are: Troop 15 of Skokie, Troop 25 of Des Plaines and Troop 7 of Arlington Heights.

The first few weeks of camp are rapidly filling up and every troop is urged to get their registrations in as soon as possible. Every scout will have the opportunity of going to camp but unless registrations are received early a Scout may be unable to attend the periods he desires.

Mrs. Buhrke was happily surprised on her 70th birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Engelking. The table centerpiece was a beautiful birthday cake, which was beautifully decorated with white and pink flowers. Mrs. Buhrke's sisters and brothers were present at the party and are all wishing her many more.

Forbidden Bombing From Air
The Hague convention of 1907 prohibited "the launching of projectiles and explosives from balloons or by other similar new methods." Later agreements exempted "open cities." By this is meant cities not used for military purposes. It has been found impossible to agree on any precise definition of the term "open cities."

You'll have dizzy spells from "Wedding Spells"

And who wouldn't? With a pre-announcing grandfather's clock — a pretty lass wielding a rolling pin, ready to attack her foe — things disappearing all over the place, including a strange creature who runs around calling for her "Ma" — a near-sighted old gal chasing after an innocent lad — Charlie Cooney proposing to every likely maiden he meets. All this, and dozens of other absurd happenings, are a part of that rip-snortin' farce, "Wedding Spells," to be presented this Friday, June 20, in the parish hall of the Presbyterian church.

The cast, in order of appearance, is as follows:

Billie—Ruth Koerber.
Reverend—Ray Boeger.
Charlie Cooney—Bob Briggs.
Mrs. Julia Pettingill—Hazel Sauers.
Angelica Wayne—Gertrude Glave.

Frances Brown—Lillian Fuhr.
Niki Murphy—Trelene Jasper.
Ruth Auburn—Naomi Smart.
Blake—Paul Page.
Sigsbee Sullivan—John Harth.
Mrs. Gay—Carol Johnson.
Mrs. William Muller is directing the play.

How about it? Will you be there? Forget the war, and strikes, and the heat (or rain), and all those troubles. Laugh yourself silly when you come to see "Wedding Spells," Friday, June 20, at 8:15. The Senior Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church invites you all.

THREE NURSES TO GRADUATE FROM PALATINE HOSPITAL

Campfire girls do not let rain spoil their camp

In spite of rain and more rain the one day camp of the Campfire Girls which was held at Camp Reinberg last Saturday was a complete success. Between showers some activities were enjoyed out of doors, and the remaining activities were held in one of the main halls.

At the Council fire the following girls entered Campfire ranks from the Bluebirds: Jean Boss, Janice Hackbarth, Sally Rose Kellogg, Dorothy Klages, Irene Latoff, Lois Scott, Elaine Henke, Beverly Oden, Jacqueline Ryan, Margie Sledz, Jannie Van Kannel, Katherine Shanklin, and Audrey Sujack.

The following girls took the rank of Torchbearer: Rose Mary Heller, Nancy Kumlner, Pauline Russell, Joan Pate, Burnetta Burns, Nan Sommer and Lois Knack and Nancy Crumlish.

Those who took the rank of Fire-maker are Ann Volz, Dorothy Williams, Joan Lewke, Jean Blackburn and Marian Helfers. Those who took the rank of Woodgatherers are Joan Lewke, Mary Lou Richards, Jean Freyermuth, Janette Nimmman, Jane Hayes, Patsy Collins, Carol Engle and Carla Bloeker. Joan Haugen took the rank of Trailseeker.

Special honor should be given to Joan Lewke who took three ranks in one year, and Jane Hayes and Mary Lou Richards who took two ranks in one year.

Rosemary Heller, who has been a Campfire Girl longer than any other girl in Arlington Heights, a period of five years, accepted the flag which was presented by the American Legion Auxiliary.

For the first time a group of Campfire girls in Arlington Heights have completed the rank of Torchbearer, which is the most difficult rank, requiring much study and hard work, and great credit is due Mrs. John Kumlner, their guardian, who worked faithfully with the girls to aid them in attaining this goal.

Fifty years of wedded life in Arlington recalled by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pfluger

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pfluger, who have lived at 210 South State rd. for the past fifty years, had the pleasure of entertaining more than one hundred and fifty guests at a golden wedding celebration on Saturday afternoon and evening in this same home when their daughter, Mrs. Topping and several friends, Mrs. Ray Bruhke, Mrs. P. J. Mors, Mrs. Fred Voelker, and Mrs. Cora Bauer, had planned the happy affair, as a complete surprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Pfluger were married on June 18, 1891 in the Presbyterian church of the village, by Rev. Alexander Gilchrist, and since that time have made their home on the fifteen acre tract at 210 South State rd., which remains the only small farm in the heart of the village. Mrs. Pfluger has lived on this farm since she was ten years old and before that time lived for several years on the present site of the Tibbits and Cameron Lumber Co.

Present at the anniversary party were many of the original wedding guests, and several of the bride party. The best man, Mr. Edward Lake of Itasca, was present as was one of the ushers, Mr. Edward Pfluger and Mrs. Albrecht from Prairie View, who served in the bride party as bridesmaid.

At the time of the Pfluger wedding, Mr. Pfluger owned and operated a harness and hardware store, which was located on the site of the present Wilke Jewelry store. One of the biggest changes that the Pflugers note in the village is in the business district, which to them has taken on a metropolitan air in comparison to the old days when it was necessary to climb five foot stairs to enter any business house on Dunton st. They recall the kerosene lamps which lighted the town, and which required three trips nightly, one to fill and clean the lamps, one to light and a final midnight trip to blow them out.

In these days of cars and paved streets it is hard to realize that once village streets were all a mire of mud, and the Pflugers have seen four horses pulling a two wheel cart containing four milk cans, stuck deep in the mud before their home on State rd.

In the good old days when most of the village folk lived on the north side of the one track railroad, friends complained that they did not call more often because it was too far out, and the Pflugers found it necessary to move a house which they had erected directly south and east of their home, to a new location at Sigwalt and Evergreen before they could find a renter who would come that far south.

Trains coming through Russell cut (between Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights), in bad snow storms, often were stalled for days at a time, while good Arlington Heights folks helped dig them free.

Mr. Pfluger has been a subscriber to Paddock Publications for sixty years, having been a subscriber to the Wheaton Illinoisan, a paper which was published by Mr. H. C. Paddock in the eighties.

Mr. and Mrs. Pfluger have taken an active part in the civic and special life of the village with Mrs. Pfluger holding a membership in the Arlington Heights Woman's Club for fifty years, and still active in the church and social life in the village.

Mr. Pfluger served as a member of the Arlington Heights school board at the time of the erection of the building which was built in 1905, and as a member, worked hard to promote a high school, which later was started as a two year course in the north building on the grounds.

Mr. Pfluger also served as a member of the village board, and as township clerk, and was serving in this capacity when the first double concrete bridge was built in Cook county, in the village of Wheeling. He was also serving as a member of the board, when gas was first brought to town, and when the water works were installed.

Three generations of the family have attended the local schools, Mrs. Pfluger, her daughter, Mrs. Topping, and her granddaughter, Gwendolyn Topping-McDonald. The daughter and granddaughter both had two of the same teachers, Mrs. Lorenzen and Miss Kuey Horcher. Miss Nellie Best, who still resides in the village, was Mrs. Pfluger's first teacher. Four generations were present at the anniversary party with the presence of the small son of Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Topping and the guest of honor, Mrs. Pfluger.

Only two business men who were in business at the time Mr. Pfluger had his hardware business still remain business men in the village, and are Mr. Frank White, the barber and Mr. Peter Hartman the shoe man.

The guests who attended the party from the village, Milwaukee, Itasca, Bloomingdale, Norwood Park, Prairie View, Chicago and many other surrounding towns, were served a buffet lunch at a table attractively decorated with golden candles and a miniature bride and groom standing under a gold arch of bells. The room in which Mr. and Mrs. Pfluger received their guests was decorated abundantly with flowers, which were gifts from many friends. The honored couple received many beautiful and appropriate gifts, among them a chest of silver dollars wrapped in gold.

Mr. and Mrs. Pfluger are most appreciative of the many good wishes and gifts extended to them, and though the world has struck a much faster pace than they care to follow, they still think that the city of good neighbors is a good place to live.

A very tasty luncheon was served and the members were happy to greet Frances Thorson, who is back home on a visit. After the regular routine of business, a social time and cards were enjoyed. The attendance prize was won by Inez Ihle.

Mr. Pfluger has been a subscriber to Paddock Publications for sixty years, having been a subscriber to the Wheaton Illinoisan, a paper which was published by Mr. H. C. Paddock in the eighties.

Helen Guenther, Walter Hetzke are married

Miss Helen Guenther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Guenther of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Mr. Walter Hetzke, son of Mrs. Helen Hetzke, on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 p. m. in the parsonage of Rev. Fricke who performed the ceremony.

The bride wore for the simple service, a gown of white mousseline de soie trimmed in lace, fashioned in princess style. Her shoulder length veil of net was held in place with a crown of pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, peonies and lilies of the valley.

The bride's sister, Dorothy, was her only attendant and was gowned in a blue floor length gown of mousseline de soie, trimmed in lace. She wore a wreath of blue and pink bachelor buttons in her hair and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and pink and blue bachelor buttons.

Arnold Brockman of Chicago, cousin of the groom, served as best man.

A reception was held for the bride and groom in the evening at the home of the bride, with more than a hundred guests in attendance to enjoy dancing to the music of Walter Hahnfeld and Wilbert Kastning.

The bride and groom will make their home on a farm near State rd. and Arlington Heights rd.

Irma Windheim is honored at pre-nuptial parties

Miss Irma Windheim who is to become the bride of Owen Baxter on July 6 in the St. Peter's Lutheran church was guest of honor at two parties recently. Mrs. John Schulenburg and Miss Ruth Hartman entertained several friends at a 9:30 breakfast on Sunday morning at the Schulenburg home, in honor of the bride-to-be. The party was a personal shower and Miss Windheim received her gifts from a flower garden which had been arranged in the living room, with the gifts hidden in a large artificial tulip, which centered the garden of real flowers and greens. The breakfast was decorated with tulips and cut flowers formed the centerpiece.

Another party given in honor of Miss Windheim was a china shower which was given by Mrs. Frank Leth on Thursday evening. Bridge was the diversion of the evening. Hurricane lamps lighted the card tables at which the lunch was served, and each fruit salad was lighted with a small candle mounted in a marshmallow.

Mr. and Mrs. Unger and family of South Dunton st. attended the graduation exercises at West Point, the United States Military Academy, when their nephew, Jess P. Unger of Chicago, was graduated.

American Legion auxiliary news

During the past ten days Mrs. Paul Carroll, Americanism chairman of Marie Guild Unit No. 208, the American Legion Auxiliary, has been a very busy woman. On June 6 she presented a medal to Nan Sommer, the winner of the Essay contest, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary in the public school.

Robert Rippey and Nancy Crumlish received honorable mention. The judges were Mr. Ray Hayes, Mrs. John Groves, and Mrs. Steve Casanadi. On June 15, Mrs. Carroll presented medals to both St. Peter's and St. James schools. Lois Tichy was the winner at St. Peter's and Lois Knaack and Burneta Burns received honorable mention. The judges were Mrs. Cooper, Mrs. Ackermann and Mrs. Tackett.

At St. James, Jean Mulligan was the winner and Reta Plate and Mary Raef received honorable mention. The judges were Mrs. Rex Volz, Mrs. George Glow and Mrs. Nicole Pino.

The auxiliary wishes to thank all the judges for their splendid cooperation in this work.

On flag day, June 14, four members of the auxiliary drove to Camp Reinberg, where the Campfire group were gathered for a day of work and play, ending in the ceremony of the lighting of the campfire. The bugler, Ann Volz, called the group together. Mrs. Jarvis gave a short talk, then introduced Mrs. Rector who in turn introduced Mrs. Carroll, who presented the flag which was accepted by Rosemary Heller.

Mrs. Paul Collins led the girls in group singing and the girls passed to their work tables smiling and happy, making their own sunshine in the face of a gloomy day which promised rain.

The auxiliary members left for home bearing with them a picture of the happy girls, and of the earnest women who are doing such worthwhile work in guiding them. Tuesday the auxiliary went to the home of Mrs. John Peroutka. After a delicious luncheon, the afternoon was spent pleasantly playing cards and chinese checkers.

Bomb shelter No. 2 discovered in Scarsdale

Marvin Boss, a new resident in Arlington Heights, has discovered what residents of that subdivision call Scarsdale bomb shelter No. 2. The first "shelter" is being used as a fruit and vegetable shelter by two families. Nobody is using the new one.

Mr. Boss reported to Mayor Goodie Tuesday that the pavement in front of his place at 636 Mayfair road had sunk and through a break he saw a deep cavity that he thought should be given attention by somebody. The mayor promised to refer the matter to the "bombing squad" when he remembered that there isn't any such thing in his official file.

It has been suggested that the matter be referred to the defense organization. Judge Behrens gave the suggestion that if it is movable, it might be sold to some east-city.

Boss does not care what is done with the hole just so there is no more sinking and his auto does not disappear some of these days.

Police department is investigating the charge that it is an act of sabotage on the part of the Japanese.

Palatine Legion festival next week

Final arrangements are being completed this week by the Palatine Legion boys for their big spring festival which gets under way next Wednesday night and continues through the following Sunday.

Old and young will find plenty of amusement and entertainment at the annual affair of the Legion boys.

As this is the opening outdoor event of the season everyone is "raring" to go.

The youngsters can hardly wait for that merry-go-round and Ferris wheel to get in operation and the oldsters are preparing to beat the card game and the dice game this year if they never did before.

There will be amusements and features plenty also plenty of good things to eat and drink and a grand time for everyone. And it all gets under way next Wednesday night at the Carnival grounds in Dean's field.

Palatine sets pace in U. S. O. drive

Little old Palatine has been called slow, dead, backward, asleep and lots of other uncomplimentary names in years past by some of her supposedly more progressive neighbors but last week Palatine showed the world that when there was something worth while to work for, they could all take a back seat and watch Palatine go.

For in the speed with which the organization of the U. S. O. drive was perfected and the actual raising of funds was started little old Palatine set the pace for all of Chicago.

After a couple of organization meetings last week, the flying squadron started out on Saturday. The committee canvassing the business district met with whole hearted cooperation from Palatine business houses and in about three hours had raised some $250.

Other teams also got started and the drive is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. When Palatine reported progress to the Chicago headquarters Saturday afternoon, they were the first community in all Chicago to report and they were given proper credit in the U. S. O. bulletin which came out early this week.

"Get behind the boys," seems to be the spirit of everyone and the local drive is going along at a fine clip. If you haven't been approached for a contribution you will be, so meet the solicitor with a smile and your hand in your pocket.

Prospect Heights Lions Club Holds Charter Night

Tuesday was a big night for Lionism of the northwest towns.

The newly organized club at Prospect Heights received its charter at a gala affair held at the Rolling Green country club. Nearly all of the adjoining clubs welcomed the opportunity to extend their congratulations to the young member of the Lions family. Two hundred were present. Songs, roars, good music, and good fellowship centered around a most excellent chicken dinner.

Harold Lamb, tail twister of the new club, charter night chairman, planned the program and at the close of the evening received in the name of the club the "kitty" that had been raised by Bud Wells, tailtwister of the Central club, during the evening. The kitty is the nest egg around which the Prospect Heights Lions will build its charity fund.

Public health committee elects

Committees for the coming year were appointed and a treasurer was elected at the June meeting of the Arlington Heights Public Health committee at the Health Center, Friday evening, June 13. Mrs. V. A. Sturm was elected treasurer to complete the list of officers headed by Mrs. Paul Carroll, chairman, Mrs. Rex Volz, vice chairman, Mr. H. A. Kossack, secretary.

The committee heads appointed were: Mrs. John Schulerberg, infant welfare; Mrs. Volz, publicity; Mr. Kenneth Russe, finance; Mrs. John Allen, assisted by Mrs. Maude Parker and Mrs. Chas. Fitzpatrick, Christmas Seal; Mr. C. V. Baker and Mr. Raymond Hayes, amendments.

Mrs. Adele Pino gave her report for May activities and a resume of the work of the Dental Clinic this year. Comparative figures show that Arlington Heights children have healthier and cleaner teeth this year than last. Arlington Heights people have an opportunity to read and study a resume of the activities of the Dental Clinic as it appears in this issue. Plans for the Dental Survey and the resumption of the Dental Clinic in the fall were discussed. The committee adjourned for the summer until September, but will be on call for special meetings during the summer.

Prospect Heights leads suburban home building

Prospect Heights led suburban home building on the northwest side during May by setting a pace of seven new homes at a value of $46,500. Palatine was runner-up with five homes at $42,000 and Arlington Heights close behind with four new homes at a cost of $40,900. Mt. Prospect also issued permits for four homes, values at $34,925.

The 1941 building spree has been clocked at 2,910 homes, an acceleration of almost 55 percent over the same five month period of 1940 when 1,944 homes were constructed. May building alone is the best month of the year so far with 788 homes permits issued in comparison with 548 homes in May, 1940. Arlington Heights showed the highest average new homes with a price tag of $10,000.

A comparison of May home values may be seen in the following table. Glenview, Skokie, Northbrook, and Northfield, all northern suburban towns, are also included in the survey:

"I do a lot of arranging these fine days . . ."

HAVE you ever thought how hard it would be to get a group of people together for a swim, or golf, or a picnic, if it weren't for the telephone? Take this party, for instance. Bob had the idea at noon on Saturday. Made a few calls. And presto! the whole crowd gathered for a fine afternoon of fun.

People take telephone service pretty much for granted—and that's the way it should be. But the 26,000 men and women of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company don't take it for granted. They try to keep every telephone in this area ready for instant action day and night. It's quite a job—but telephone people take pride in doing a good job. And that's one reason, probably, why the people here and in all America always have enjoyed the finest telephone service in the world. . . .

ANNE GWYNNE (L) with Robert Benchley, Ann Gillis and Deanna Durbin in Deanna's ninth starring vehicle, Universal's "Nice Girl?" Showing at the Palatine Theatre Sunday, Monday and through Tuesday, plus second feature "Las Vegas Nights" with Tommy Dorsey and His Orchestra music, songs, dances and comedy.

Movie News.

Story of Las Vegas, one of last frontier towns, on Catlow screen

A story of night life in one of the last frontier towns in the country, the wide-open, always-gay little town of Las Vegas, Nevada, will be on view when Paramount's new comedy with music, "Las Vegas Nights" comes to the Catlow Theatre on Saturday.

Merging swing music, the flash of dancing legs and fast-moving comedy, "Las Vegas Nights" features in its cast the swing orchestra of Tommy Dorsey, one of the most popular bands in the country; Bert Wheeler, Constance Moore, Phil Regan, Betty Brewer, Lillian Cornell, Virginia Dale, and Red Donohue and his mule "Uno."

Told against the exciting background of the gambling halls of Las Vegas, the film relates the story of the adventures of a vaudeville troupe whose members find quick riches and romance when they come to "The Friendly City" to collect an inheritance.

The glamour and romance suggested by the soft Brazilian moon, the throbbing rhythm of the Samba, and the tantalizing movements of exotic dancers provide the background for 20th Century-Fox's Technicolor musical, "That Night in Rio" which stars Alice Faye, Don Ameche and Carmen Miranda, and opens at the Catlow Theatre Sunday.

This latest cinematic contribution of the studio that produced "Down Argentine Way" and "Tin Pan Alley" is sprinkled with catchy tunes by those master tunesmiths, Mack Gordon and Harry Warren. The vivacious Carmen, who is accompanied by her Banda Da Lua, finds plenty of reason to sing and dance when "I Yi, Yi, Yi, Yi," "Chica, Chica, Boom Chic," "Boo Noite" (Good Night), "They Met in Rio" and "The Baron is in Conference" are played.

When an impetuous young lady leaves a titled fiancée at the altar and runs off to marry a poor clerk in her father's department store, it must be love. And it's just that kind of love that motivates the exciting plot of "Repent at Leisure," RKO Radio film co-starring Kent Taylor and Wendy Barrie, coming to the Catlow Theatre Tuesday.

Replete with hilarious comedy, trenchant drama and fast-paced action, "Repent at Leisure" was directed by Frank Woodruff. The supporting cast includes George Barbier, Rafael Storm, Nella Walker and Thurston Hall.

Laugh show at Des Plaines Sunday

The double feature program starting Sunday at the Des Plaines Theatre is guaranteed to evoke a lot of merriment from even the most sedate and sober member of the audience. Consisting of "The Devil and Miss Jones" starring Jean Arthur, and "Topper Returns" with Joan Blondell, Roland Young, Carole Landis and Rochester, these films are two of the funniest of the season. An interesting short subject supplements this program.

Titled "More About Nostradamus," this short subject tells the amazing tale of a man who lived in the sixteenth century, who prophesied all of the world's major events that have happened to date; and who told what the future holds in store for us.

Now showing at the Des Plaines Theatre, and finishing a three day run on Saturday, are "Rage in Heaven" co-starring Robert Montgomery and Ingrid Bergman, plus "Knockout," featuring Arthur Kennedy and Olympic Bradna.

Andy graduates in "Hardy Family" comedy

Designed to strike a responsive cord in the hearts of all the family, "Andy Hardy's Private Secretary," playing at the Palatine Theatre next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is heralded as destined to prove one of the most popular of the series.

The latest Hardy Family picture proves a milestone in the life of Andrew Hardy. Its plot, in brief, finds the young man deep in the duties as chairman of numerous senior committees, and being a good Samaritan on the side of a couple of youngsters less fortunate than he. How he inadvertently causes a near tragedy in their family, and how, in spite of failing an English exam, he manages to be among those present when diplomas are handed out, makes for documents of the year.

Deanna Durbin is seen in an American small town setting for the first time and has her first real "big city" romance in Universal's "Nice Girl?," playing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"Nice Girl?" has its setting in the fictitious New England town of Stillwater, Connecticut, where Deanna, Ann Gillis and Anne Gwynne are daughters of a high school principal and scientist, the latter played by Robert Benchley. Gay laughter and luring music set amid an interesting new background provide an evening of delightful entertainment in Paramount's latest musical comedy, "Las Vegas Nights," which also plays Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The scenes are laid in the wide-open town of Las Vegas, Nevada, from which the picture derives its title. Las Vegas, known as "The Friendly City" prides itself upon being the last pioneer town in the United States in which gambling is absolutely legal and widely advertised.

Life with Mother

Dear Mar:—

Thank you for our prune bread recipe. You make it sound so easy that I shall try it one of these days and let you know the results. I'm much too busy right now to take on anything new.

You'll never guess what Estelle and I have been up to — so I'll tell you — We're sewing! Mother found a portable electric machine, of the type she used years ago in the East, but it is rarely seen here, so she up and bought it. Dave said he would have to see something actually produced before he'd believe we could do anything with it. Estelle hasn't touched a needle and thread since I never have, but we started right in and I haven't enjoyed anything so much in years. It's like a game, a puzzle or paper dolls. I cut, baste and do the hand sewing. Estelle sews on the machine. It is so much fun going through the big pattern book to select patterns, then taking them to the yard goods counter to choose materials and color.

I'm piling everything in my big dresser drawers for you to see in all their newness. To date we've made three night-gowns, a house coat, two house dresses and an organdie dress for me, two house dresses and a silk one for Estelle, two pairs of pajamas for Dave, a bath robe for Dave and three sun suits for Louis. Dave is very much impressed with us now and even helps me figure out how to cut the patterns when I am puzzled. He can follow the diagram and numbers on the pieces and lay them just right on the goods, even when he doesn't know a sleeve from a skirt or a waist from a yoke. It's the masculine, mechanical mind, I guess.

I ran across the grandest book, while looking for a gift one day. It's called Mary Thomas's "Dictionary of Embroidery Stitches." Every possible stitch is in it, alphabetically arranged and with diagrams any one can follow. I've learned to make button holes and those little loops for tiny buttons. If I had a girl child, I think I would start her on a sampler, just for the fun of doing it.

Dave sews with us, on scraps left over, with a large pin tied to a string, an invention of Estelle's. Weird articles are produced.

Now that's my propaganda for you — don't think I don't recognize yours, my good woman! Gardening — I really would love to garden, but I'm firm in my vow not to attempt it until the boys are older. Dave has roped off part of the yard and planted grass again. I've painted the swing, the sand pile and the garden chairs white and dark blue. Since they all have to be placed on the old grass, to the proper side of his rope, this Island on a holiday.

Brother-in-law, Earl, brought us some lilac shoots from their garden, when he was in town last week and he and Dave planted them along the west fence, where it is sagging badly. We figure, if the fence blows down some night, (as the front section did last year) instead of attempting to repair it, we'll use it for kindling and let the lilacs form a hedge. The vicissitudes of the poor. It reminds me of a song Louis (my brother Louis) used to sing, because it tickled him to sing, about "Oh! the rich get richer and the poor get children."

Your peonies are all in bud and the lilies of the valley planted. Estelle considers them hers and watches over them like the proverbial hen. I'm watching the mint plants you gave me. They are doing nicely. I want to serve you mint juleps this summer.

Mary — in a vacant store, in our business section they've opened a war relief shop; they take any clothing or shoes for wear in cloth for the people to wear in the air raid shelters. When I discovered it the other day, among all the articles piled in the window was a pink "baby bonnet" ribbon trimmed with little hood, booties and even mittens to match, all pinned neatly to it — just as if it were going to be presented at some "baby shower" not to a frantic mother to use in a subway perhaps. I tell you it gave me goose flesh, just a word said "He's my baby brother." I shall er, his name's Louis, he is one year bringing them everything of Dave's old 'cause he only had one candle and Louis' that I can spare on his cake and you can't take him.

And now cousin Phil is leaving home with you 'cause my daddy for the army this month. You likes him." All of this in a very know, of course, how close I have bored tone and the implication was always been to my cousins. Phil is the youngest of us and the only unmarried one. Auntie Net has been very upset ever since this drafting business has come up but now that he is actually going, she is taking it stoically. I don't know what they will do with him but from stories I have read of army life they could make him a sergeant, without any of the fuss or bother of training him. You know he is so tough and collegiate. Everything he says is slang or a wise crack, so that one almost needs an interpreter, and he is so used to having his own way that giving orders will come naturally. We've all spoiled him, of course, and now "the family" is shaking its collective head and saying "army discipline will be fine for Phil." The only thing that worries me, is that he is so big hearted and generous that if they don't watch him closely, he'll be giving away his uniform, gun and whatever else they issue him.

But enough of war. Let's stick our heads back in the sand. When I was putting away the laundry yesterday, I was reminded of the first complete laundry I did. I remember how smug I felt as I went from drawer to drawer placing the freshly ironed clothes in their places. I just knew Dave was going to realize what a little Gem he had found in me. A few days later I was in the bath room washing my face when I heard an awful roaring and howling from our bedroom.

I went to the door and there was Dave in his underclothes turning and twisting in front of my dressing table mirror. Now, heaven help me, maybe my sense of humor helped all wrong but a man in his underclothes has always seemed a bit ludicrous to me. Maybe it is the contrast between a woman, with her pink and white skin and soft curves emerging from bits of silk and lace, and a man's hairy chest and arms lumpy with muscles emerging from those sleeveless shirts and his equally hairy and bulging legs coming out of those little pants they call shorts — at any rate I laughed and said "Whatever is the matter?"

"Matter?" yells Dave, "What have you done? Look at me."

"I am looking, darling, and you look very cute," says I, "but if you called me in here just to see me?"

"Cute," roars Dave, "That's just it! What do you think I am, a ballet dancer or an officer in the Royal Greek Guards?"

"Whoever told you to put all this starch in a man's shorts? And furthermore, woman, I feel as though I were done up in a cardboard box."

I leaned against the doorway and laughed because now that I realized it, that was just what he looked like, one of those funny Greek guards. Laughing was exactly the wrong thing to do because I know now that you can laugh at a man if he breaks his arm or neck, but never when his dignity is upset. So I meekly said I didn't know any better and promised never to starch his shorts again and beat a hasty retreat. Ah me!

Of course we must go to the Brookfield Zoo the very first day school is over because I read your letter to Estelle and Dave and now he asks me every day if this is the day Mary is coming to take us to the zoo. How could you even suggest taking Edward and Louis too unless we also take a stretcher to bring me home on? But I guess that is one of the things I always admired and loved you for — your abominable pep. My suggestion is that you try to wheedle the boys, Bobbie and Jack, to come along and help us with George and Davy. But be it as you wish it, darling, only try to restrain yourself and don't call Dorothy and suggest she come along with her four boys and that she might as well pick up Janice and her two, because I "just ain't as young as I once was."

My love to you and the boys, As always, Eleanore.

P. S. Dave's bright remark of the week. I left Louis in his buggy at the entrance to our little department store near here and told Davy to watch him while I shopped. I returned just in time to see a lovely old lady approach Louis. Davy took hold of the buggy handle very possessively, looked to use in a subway perhaps. I tell you it gave me goose flesh, just a word said "He's my baby brother." I shall er, his name's Louis, he is one year bringing them everything of Dave's old 'cause he only had one candle and Louis' that I can spare on his cake and you can't take him.

WALTHER LEAGUE

Northern Illinois District

News items for this department should be mailed not later than Monday to Arlene Nagel, publicity chairman, 804 N. Douglas St., Arlington Heights.

Well, another big week-end over and we sit down (very stiffly) to write you a few lines. Played volley-ball, horse-shoe, ping-pong, Piggie in the Parlor, Farmer in the Dell, milked two cows, played in the hay mow, hiked several miles, sang around a camp fire and ate, ate, and ate Sunday after a wedding Saturday night. About forty enjoyed the first activities, and we say happy birthday to Milly Behrens of Arlington, Carolla Horn of Evanston, and Art Streit of Norwood Park.

We'll keep our promise and give you the suggested appointees for service chairman as decided upon at the board meeting last Tuesday. These are, of course, subject to acceptance by the individual appointees. Christian Service, Lila Mensching of Des Plaines; Christian Knowledge, Annetta Bicknese of Itasca; Cultural Activities, re-appointed Glen Bees of Park Ridge; Leadership Training, re-appointed Harvey Rohling of Schaumburg; Publications, Carl Schultz of River Grove; Junior Counsellor, re-appointed Gertrude Hinz of Arlington Heights; Athletics, re-appointed Eddie Raack of Des Plaines with Wally Bloethner of Niles as his assistant; Recreation, Ruth Gehrs of Arlington Heights; publicity, re-appointed Arlene Nagel of Arlington Heights; Field Secretary, Art Streit of Norwood Park; Wheat Ridge seals chairman, Bob Gillis of Elmwood Park. That completes the list, and if each accepts the appointment, we are confident we will have a strong working board this year.

The best news reported at the meeting was the report on the opera. This is probably the last time we can mention it so we might as well make it good. In round figures, we performed before 1600 people on the three nights combined. Financially, we netted around $95.00; morally and in common fellowship, the profit can never be measured. A definite closer kinship is noticeable not only among the cast and chorus but among those who worked on the outside clear to anyone that she could have Louis for all the rest of us cared. I had a wild idea of pretending I did not know them and walking right by but the nice old lady laughed and went on.

One injured in collision Sunday on State road

One person was injured in a collision Sunday afternoon at the junction of State rd. with Higgins rd. The other seven persons involved in the accident escaped unhurt in the near head-on crash.

Helge Schwartz, Chicago, was driving west on Higgins behind another vehicle when he decided to turn left on State rd. As he swung across the pavement he was hit by the east-bound auto of Ray Verest, also Chicago, who had failed to note the other driver's intentions.

Riding with Verest were four other persons, but all were unhurt. Schwartz carried two passengers, one of whom, Miss Louise Bucher of New York City, was injured. She was taken to the Northwestern hospital in Des Plaines where she was found to be suffering from numerous bruises.

PARK RIDGE AUTOIST STRUCK AT ROUTES 45, 72

Ray Cooper of Park Ridge was struck Saturday evening at the junction of routes 45 and 72 while riding with his wife, but was unhurt.

Cooper was driving west on Higgins rd., rte. 72, and had stopped for the stop sign at rte. 45. He then started across, noticed an approaching auto and again stopped. The latter car, driven by Oliver Gilliam, Chicago, attempted to halt, but skidded into the Cooper vehicle.

MINOR COLLISION AT RIVER, ELGIN-EVANSTON RDS.

A minor collision resulted Sunday morning at the junction of River and Elgin-Evanston rds. when two cars were involved but no one was hurt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burger of Evanston was driving west on 58 while B. W. Church of Chicago was traveling south on River rd. They collided at the junction.

CHICAGOAN DAMAGES NEW IMPROVEMENT AT JUNCTION OF MILWAUKEE RD., RTE. 58

The changing of traffic lights, newly installed at the junction of Milwaukee ave. and rte. 58 caused Carl Zumbstein, Chicago, to apply the brakes too quickly, throwing his car out of control and against the safety island. The wet pavement was partly responsible as Zumbstein knocked over a rte. sign and tore up much of the newly planted turf.

SHARP CURVE DITCHES AUTOIST ON BALLARD

A Chicago autoist, Wilbur Foley, skidded into the ditch Thursday morning as a result of being unfamiliar with a "30-or-less" curve on the comparatively new Ballard rd.

Foley was traveling west when he came to the curve. His advanced speed caused him to skid from the road, go through a guard rail, and land in the ditch. Slight cuts were suffered by Foley.

TRUCK HITS POLE AS DES PLAINES CAR TURNS ONTO HIGHWAY

A Des Plaines car driven by William House turned onto rte. 14 from rte. 58 last week Monday, causing the driver of a south bound truck on rte. 14 to take the ditch and hit a light pole.

Stephen Vasek, Chicago, had become nervous when cut-off by the auto and swung the truck into the ditch. Luckily, he was not injured.

MT. PROSPECT MOTORIST CRASHES AS CHICAGOAN LOSES CONTROL

A curve on rte. 62 just west of rte. 83 last Tuesday afternoon caused a Chicago motorist, Otto Behnke, to lose control of his car and strike Kenneth Oldenberg of Mt. Prospect, driver of the auto being passed. Neither driver was hurt.

NORTHBROOK MOTORIST SKIDS INTO DITCH

Alfred Werhane, Northbrook, skidded off the road early Sunday morning along River rd. near the Belt Line railroad, but escaped unhurt. His car slid onto the shoulder where the grass was wet, struck a Public Service pole and landed in the ditch.

Two hurt when Glenview strikes stalled auto

A supposedly stalled auto late Thursday night caused injury to two Glenview residents when the latter drove into the stopped vehicle on Lake ave. and Brandon rd. Harry J. La Suer, Glenview resident, driving west on Lake ave. with his wife and daughter, hit the car of Felix Tomas of Evanston. The Tomas car was pushed in the ditch.

Tomas and a friend had stalled their car and were endeavoring to push it onto the shoulder when the accident occurred.

Mrs. La Suer was most seriously hurt with very deep cuts on head and knee being suffered. She and her husband were first given treatment by a Glenview doctor, after which Mrs. La Suer was moved to the St. Francis hospital in Evanston.

Four youngsters hurt when car tips over, burns

Four Chicago youngsters were injured Thursday afternoon when their car tipped over on Milwaukee ave. and Glenview rd. and caught fire.

The kids were returning from Diamond Lake when their auto skidded on the wet asphalt roadway of the railroad bridge at the above junction. The car tipped over, catching fire just after the occupants emerged from the overturned vehicle.

County police arrived on the scene and summoned the Glenview fire department which extinguished the blaze.

Edgar Hansen was the most seriously injured, suffering numerous cuts, fractured ribs, and abdominal injury. The other three were bruised and lacerated. All were taken to the Northwestern hospital in Des Plaines with Hansen being later transferred to the county hospital in Chicago.

Seek damages for auto injuries

Thomas N. Meyer, Jr., has sued Wilbur C. Young in Superior court for $5,000 damages for injuries in an automobile accident on Skokie rd. near Ridge rd. Jan. 19. He alleges Young's car collided with his causing him serious injury and loss.

John J. Maurer has sued Henry Sopkin in Superior court for $15,000 damages as a result of a collision of their cars April 27, on Waukegan rd. and Glenview rd. in Glenview. He alleges he was driving on Waukegan rd. and Sopkin drove through the red light signal from Glenview rd. and hit his car with disastrous results.

Four persons who were riding as guests of J. Kubitschik Oct. 19 on Landmeier rd. near Busse rd., sued him in Superior court for damages after he ran the car into the ditch and injured them all. They allege he was speeding and turned the car at too high speed so it tipped over and hit objects that were in its way. Anna Prikosovitch asks $25,000 damages, Izador and Theresa Prikosovitch and John Talschick each ask $15,000 damages.

'LIGHT RUNNERS' COLLIDE AT MILWAUKEE, ROUTE 58

Two evidently "light runners" became involved in a collision at the junction of Milwaukee ave. and rte. 58 last Wednesday evening but were uninjured.

Miss Marcia Wheeler, Hinsdale, was moving east on rte. 58 and had started across Milwaukee ave. just as the lights had started to turn green. E. Rice of Eden, New York, was driving north on Milwaukee ave. and endeavored to get across the junction just as the light was turning red. Damage was confined to the two autos.

DES PLAINES CYCLIST HIT WHILE RIDING ALONG HIGHWAY

Louise Jahneke of Des Plaines was struck Saturday evening while riding her bicycle along Rand rd., just north of Ballard rd. The motorist rushed her to a hospital for first aid.

Armin Billhardt, Chicago, was driving north on Rand rd. at the above location when Louise turned out. Billhardt swerved but failed to avoid hitting the bike, throwing the girl to the ground. He took her to Northwestern hospital with her only injury a bruised leg.

SUES POLKA BROS. THEATRE FOR $8,200 NOTES DUE BANK

Otto C. Woeter, receiver of the Des Plaines State bank, has filed suit in Superior court against Martin, Paul and Otto Polka doing business as Polka Brothers Theatres to recover judgment for sums due the bank. He alleges that in 1931 just before the bank failed they gave notes for a total of $8,200 which the bank became possessed of. They have not paid the principal or interest on them. There is now due a total of $12,298 for which he asks judgment.

WILLS FILED WAUCONDA

The will of the late Mrs. Augusta Nietzel, who died May 16, has just been probated in Chicago. Probate clerk Frank Lyman states her estate is estimated to be worth $16,500. Among her bequests is $1,500 to a daughter, Louise Webster, of Wauconda.

Prisoner Rather Than Pay

Ouvrard, contractor-general of France, accepted imprisonment rather than pay a certain creditor. But, to add a room to his in prison, where he lived a princely life, Ouvrard paid the debt of the confined man in the room he wanted.

Broadcasting

Most people are familiar with the word "broadcasting" as used in radio, but the term also has an agricultural meaning—casting or scattering of seed over the ground.

NEWS OF SPRINGFIELD

by
Bernice T. Van der Vries
Representative, 7th District
General Assembly of Illinois

The crowds and the confusion in the corridors of the State house on Wednesday was typical of the closing days of the General assembly except that it was complicated by the addition of hundreds of county officials and township supervisors who were loudly protesting the passage of the Aid for Dependent Children bills in the House the day before. The crowds were so dense that it required the services of a husky sergeant-at-arms of the House to escort me to my coat and hat.

"Members of the House were being 'sent for' throughout the morning by their angry officials from 'back home.' To my knowledge no Cook county officials were in the protesting throng. At least I was not 'sent for.'"

On casting our votes for the A.D.C. bills which were administration-sponsored after some delay, both Representative Sprague and I pointed out the weaknesses in the bills particularly the description of the term "needy child" which allows the administration of wide authority. We also warned the members of the increasing financial burden which the state would have to assume unless great care was exercised in the administration. One metropolitan newspaper said we had "praised the bills." The reporter's idea of praise was certainly different from ours.

The Senate, which went into a filibuster on Thursday, will have to act on the bills before they become law. And speaking of filibusters, the fight in the Senate over the reconsideration of the Chicago Park district pegged levy proved so entertaining that many members of the House spent more time in the Senate observing the fight than in their own seats voting on bills. On several occasions the majority floor leader had to send for members when their votes were needed. After some members of the Senate insisted on having all bills read in full, a boring and time-consuming process, the president pro-tem moved for adjournment. Usually such difficulties are worked out during week ends when tempers have had time to cool.

Study Pegged Levies

The real issue was the bill sponsored by Speaker Schnackenberg which provides for a commission to study the question of pegged levies. Originally it applied to Cook county but was amended to include the entire state. Since Chicago and Cook county are the only governmental units which use pegged levies, the bill is really a measure aimed at the study of the taxing bodies in Cook county such as the Chicago Board of Education, the Public Library of Chicago, the Chicago Park board, the Sanitary district and the County and Forest preserves of Cook county. This bill was the only one introduced by the speaker, as his time is too busy with the management of the House to handle legislation. The controversy has removed conversation to some extent from reapportionment of the congressional districts. There will be no senatorial reapportionment unless a miracle happens.

On Thursday the House passed a $50,000 appropriation measure for building a series of dams in the Des Plaines river. The bill carried the names of Representatives McGrath, Sprague, John J. Gorman, Hruby, Houcek and Van der Vries, members from the 7th and 19th Senatorial districts.

Representative McGrath's bill to license handbooks passed the House on Tuesday. Representatives Sprague and Van der Vries did not support their colleague's bill.

An aftermath of the fight made on the A.D.C. bills by the township supervisors was a series of bills introduced by Representative Libonati of Chicago which called for the abolishment of the office.

Mental Health Bill

The Mental Health bill introduced by the writer passed the House on Thursday by a vote of 122 to 1. The bill repeals the act concerning lunatics enacted in 1893 and sets up a procedure for the commitment of mentally ill persons in line with modern treatment. All House bills remaining in House committees have been tabled except those in the appropriations committee and those in the process of being enrolled in the committee for that purpose. The main work in the last two weeks will be that of voting on bills on the calendar. To know and understand the contents of hundreds of bills which will come up for a vote is a real problem.

Broadloom Meaning

Broadloom is not a weave such as Axminster or Wilton. The word broadloom refers to the width of the carpeting—9, 12, 15 and 18 feet. Broadlooms can be bought in all weaves plain and figured.

Pad Under Rug

A thin, inexpensive rug can be given the "feel" of a luxuriously thick one when a heavy pad is used under it. The pad also protects the rug from wear, will keep it from tracking so easily.

36-hole play over 2 Sundays July 13 and 20

by TOMMY KOUZMANOFF

Whatever doubt remained in our minds as to just how an amateur golf tournament would be accepted has certainly been erased. Although, last week's announcement was merely an informal advance billing already telephone inquiries from golf clubs and players are pouring in. Ten golfers have asked that they be considered as definite entries and are awaiting this week's official bulletin. Here it is:

The Paddock Publications Annual Amateur Golf Tournament will be played at Mohawk Country Club in Bensenville as a 36-hole meet. The dates are Sunday, July 13 and Sunday, July 20, 18 holes each day. Play will be on handicap basis. Those not having CDGA handicaps will gain their handicaps by virtue of the first round. The Chicago District Golf Association's Automatic Handicap System will be used. Eligible to compete will be all male amateur golfers residing in the area covered by the Paddock Publications. Members of private clubs in this area will also be eligible to compete for the two large, handsome low gross and low net trophies. The entry fee of $2.00 will include greens fees and locker room accommodations for both days.

Mohawk In Excellent Condition

Those that have not visited Mohawk Country Club this season will hardly recognize the Bensenville layout. The fairways, roughs and traps are kept up daily by a large crew of men. The greens have always been noted for their true-ness. In view of these facts, this department selected Mohawk as the site of our first tournament. Club Manager E. M. Hensley's intentions are to extend every courtesy necessary to make our contestants' presence most welcome. The clubhouse's new modern interior decorating and carpeting ranks with the most lavish in the state.

Send Entries Early
Although entries will not close until Monday evening, July 7, do not delay in sending your entry. We have been given 11 a. m. as the starting time on both Sundays and it is our intention to consume two hours of starting. Eighteen threesomes or foursomes can be sent off in two hours. This procedure would make it possible for the club's membership to continue regular afternoon play at 1 o'clock.

Mail or deliver your entry to Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights, Ill. Personal checks and money orders will be acknowledged.

It Happened Here

The catalpas are lighting up; the massy one over the fence is tall and reaching taller as the wind lifts and drops the flat branches; stiff and straight the flattened branches each holds its formal arrangement of candles on an unsteady green salver; but when the wind, rushing around frantically like a harried waiter, carries the platters at dangerous angles, the candles ride upright, each light unquenched. One catalpa tree differs from another in glory; the tree which for many years has leaned lovingly over an architect's dream of small red brick barn has stag horn branches, shaped and twisted with a silversmith's art into the semblance of a vast candelabrum, and when the evening light plays thru the candlelit boughs there is a suggestion of cathedral peace which even the noisy blackbirds cannot mar. Our blackbirds are the rusty blackbirds, their plumage is rusty, their voices are rusty and their dispositions could do with a bit of oil — all their hinges are rusty and four-and-twenty of them baked in a pie would give the hardest dictator dyspepsia.

The tadpole, presented to kindergarten in a shallow pan, was guaranteed by its owner not to jump — "It's too young." And so, with some qualms, the pan was placed for safety on the piano. But the tadpole, in kindergarten, knew his stuff and with a soft plop, was underfoot, taking part in the exercises with thirty other babies, and narrowly escaping annihilation before he was discovered. Now the kindergarten is proud to announce that, up to date, it has graduated with honors Teddy Turtle, the fledgeling sparrow and the ambitious tadpole. The children's behavior at the christening was beyond praise; no one cried or spoke out of turn; to be sure, Cora called out "Betsy!" once, Betsy, kneeling up in her little chair, facing the audience, hailed a familiar face with, "Hi! Aunt Peggy." But the whole proceedings were so friendly and informal that no one minded a loved name being spoken aloud and when the best name of all was spoken over little Cora she looked trustfully up into the face of His representative and accepted her initiation as naturally as a flower receives grace. The minister with golden haired Cora in his arms and him was like a stained glass window presentation of Suffer The Little Children.

Arlington Park opens race meeting Monday

Chicago's 1941 racing season, off to the finest start in a decade, moves into high gear Monday, with the opening of the big summer session at Arlington Park.

With a stake and purse program totalling $500,000 for the 34-day meeting, and with 1,350 choice thoroughbreds including Whirlaway, the horse of the year in competition, from now to July 31, Arlington Park will be the cynosure of national racing interest.

Three of Arlington's thirteen stakes will be crowded into the first week of racing activity. The opening day feature is the Myrtlewood Handicap, a six furlong dash for 3-year-olds and upwards, with $2,500 added money. Some of the fastest sprinters quartered at the track have been nominated for the event.

Wednesday Arlington Park will inaugurate a new policy of mid-week stake races with the first running of the Primer, a $2,500 added event for juveniles at five and a half furlongs. Saturday's feature will be the eighth running of the Arlington Matron Handicap at a mile, which by its endowment of $7,500 added money, is the largest stake offered for a race exclusively for fillies and mares any place in the middle west.

Everything points to a banner opening, especially since it will be Ladies day and the fair sex will be admitted upon a payment of tax only every Monday.

The huge Arlington plant, nationally known as a model of beauty and convenience in a racing establishment, is entirely ready for Monday's opening. The permanent improvements, including benches for 4,500 on the grandstand terrace, 45 new mutual-selling points, a new inner rail on the main course, three new barns in the stable area and improved roads and parking facilities were completed several days ago.

The Arlington stables are filled to capacity with thoroughbreds representing the leading establishments of America. General Manager John D. Jackson's greatest worry has been to find stall accommodations for the nationally famous stables which will be represented.

Visitors to Arlington during the meeting will see horses running in the silks of E. R. Bradley, A. G. Vanderbilt, the Whitneys and Wideners, Hirsch Jacobs, Dixiana Farms, Valdina Farm, King Ranch and such outstanding local favorites as Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Milky Way Farm, Wolford Farms, Mrs. Emil Demenark, Cleaveland Putnam, and the Lexbrook stable.

They will see the foremost trainers, jockeys and apprentice riders of the country competing for the special awards totalling $7,000 which Arlington Park will distribute in contests divided between the first and second halves of the meeting.

The climax of the Arlington meeting as usual will be the Classic to be run on Saturday, July 26. All discussion of that event is dominated by Whirlaway, Warren Wright's winner of the triple crown of the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes. Not only will Whirlaway be on hand for the Classic, but it is likely that he will go to the post in other events during the meeting.

Calumet Farm has more strings than Whirlaway to its bow at the meeting. Its pair of juvenile stake winners at Belmont, Sun Again and Some Chance, loom among the principal contenders for the Arlington Futurity to be run on July 12.

The July 4 week-end promises to be a record-breaker in the history of the track with the Stars and Stripes Handicap on the Friday holiday and the Lassie Stakes for 2-year-old fillies on Saturday, the fifth.

Grass racing over the turf course in the infield, the only one of its kind in the United States excepting Hialeah Park, will be extended this year with daily races over the course. In addition two of Arlington stakes, the Grassland July 9, and the Arlington Handicap on July 19, will be run on the grass, the first grass stake races in Arlington's history.

The famous Arlington landscape is at its best for the meeting, thanks to copious June rains and the painstaking efforts of a large force of gardeners who, since early last spring, have been bringing along the flowers and shrubs in the infield and in the outdoor paddock area.

Another addition to the decor of the race track are some 25 huge oil-painted photomurals, ranging up to twelve feet by twenty in size, which have been hung on the walls of the grandstand and clubhouse. These include famous racing scenes at Arlington and Arlington Park's Hall of Fame, consisting of large portraits of nineteen horses that have made Arlington history.

The Hall of Fame includes the twelve previous winners of the Classic, Seabiscuit, Sun Beau, Equipoise, Discovery, Twenty Grand, Misstep, and Whirlaway.

Horses of the past have been further honored at Arlington in the naming of stakes and feature overnight races. The Myrtlewood, the Cinderella and the Equipoise Mile are the stake races and each day one of the overnight features carries a name significant in racing history. Fittingly enough the chief supporting feature of the Myrtlewood on Monday's card is the Clang, named for the great sprinter which engaged in so many racing duels with Myrtlewood at Arlington and elsewhere.

Increased parking space provides facilities for 16,000 cars and new Y roadways at the two principal automobile entrances to the grounds are expected to avoid congestion on even the busiest days of the meeting.

Colors of Rainbow

The colors of the rainbow are red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet, but the colors of individual rainbows may vary. Red and violet can nearly always be distinguished and greens, blues, and yellows may all be present. There is, however, much mixing of colors because the rainbow is not a single spectrum but a series of overlapping spectra.

Arlington's Rich Meeting Draws Turf Spotlight

Action, nerve flailing and exciting, will fill the air when Arlington Park race track opens its rich 34-day meeting Monday in Chicago. Half a million dollars will find their way into the hands of turfmen by the time the last race of the season is run at the Chicago track. Thirteen stakes stud the program, featured by events on the picturesque grass course and climaxed by the thirtieth running of the $40,000 added Arlington Classic July 26. The country's best thoroughbreds will campaign at Arlington, insuring patrons such thrilling scenes as shown above.
